What is Water Ski Racing?

Water ski racing is a high adrenalin action packed family oriented water sport. Water sport enthusiasts of all kinds are encouraged to get involved. Mom, dad, kids, aunts, uncles, friends, etc. can all take part on the same team.

The NWSRA sanctions events in the United States at lakes, rivers and ocean locations along the West Coast. Courses range in size and shape, with long sweeping turns around 3 buoys. Water conditions vary. Starts are made at a dead water fashion.

There are Novice and two different Social classes available for beginners. Each division is divided up by entry level, age or boat class to offer as much comparative competition as possible.

Marathon events range between 35 to 65 miles in length with a Mini Marathons running approximately 25 miles. Circle or sprint racing takes place on approximately a 2 mile oval course.

21' Cyclone SR • Ski Race Series

Our 21' Nordic Cyclone Ski Race Boats have a successful running plank and dead rise angle in its hull design that are proven in rough water conditions. We designed this boat specifically to handle rough water ski racing and it can hold its own in open water.

With many titles to its name, the 21' design has truly exceeded all expectations. With better handling and increased stability due to the extra wide chines, 21SR will land soft every time, even when put through the riggers of offshore power-boating.

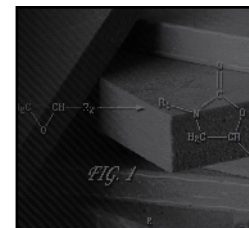

All Nordic Boats are built with 100% Wood Free construction; closed cell foam coring, vinylester resins and all the finest materials.

21' CrossFire • Family Ski Boat

The CrossFire is bringing the fast hot rod style back to family recreation. In the 70's family ski boats had style, low profile, small and sporty. The New CrossFire is an exact clone of our 21' Ski Race Boat, with a few exceptions; more seating, more storage, standard lay-up, and all the style and performance of a raceboat, yet designed for the family.

The CrossFire is designed as an entry level Nordiac. If you have been considering a family ski boat, then the CrossFire is the perfect choice.

All Nordiac Boats are built with 100% Wood Free construction; closed cell foam coring, vinylester resins and all the finest materials.

Winner's Touch

When building its boats, Nordic Boats isn't afraid to put in some extra effort—no matter what model it's working on. Whether it's a family focused catamaran, a large V-bottom or a small ski-race boat, the builder uses only the finest materials and sweats the smallest details down to every piece of in-house-constructed, component.

A fine example was the new 29 Escape from Nordic—another in a handful of models that have debuted since Randy Davis took over the storied company almost four years ago. Impressive fit and finish, as well as a meticulous mix of gelcoat graphics, accompanied the sport boat's stellar styling and tooling.

Overall, the 29 Escape proved it is an ideal family sport boat. It was fun to drive, had plenty of room and was built to last. Obviously, the price would increase if upgrading to 700-hp engines from Mercury or Ilmor, but at $116,000 with the 496 Mag HO, the 29 Escape was attractive and advanced, yet remained affordable.

ABSOLUTE BOMBSHELL

For decades, Nordic Boats has developed its pedigree with lake boats that could be found everywhere from Arizona's Lake Havasu to Lake Texoma on the Texas-Oklahoma border. While the company touted some of its large V-bottoms as offshore boats, it never had a true offshore offering until it introduced the 42 Inferno a couple of years ago.

Whether it's on a large lake or offshore, Nordic's retooled 42 Inferno is right at home. Since owner Randy Davis bought the Lake Havasu City company several years ago, the quality of the boats has risen substantially thanks to wood-free construction and better in-house manufacturing.

Performance-wise, Nordic's offerings have made big strides as well. With a couple of Mercury Racing HP700SCi engines providing the punch, Nordic's 42 Inferno topped 100 mph—100.7 mph to be exact—to qualify for this roundup. It took some distance on the Colorado River, but lead test driver Bob Teague got the substantial twin-step V-bottom beyond the century mark.

“This thing really handles good through the turns and slaloms,” Teague said. “It’s just an all-around nice boat.”

Teague, praised the deck tooling, describing it as “straight as an arrow.”

When it came to quality of construction, handling and appearance, the latest 42 Inferno from Nordic Boats was a complete package, especially at $479,000.
